A VOICE FROM THE GOVERNMENT SATS THAT THEY MUST CHANGE.

The Glare Must Be Kept from the River, and the Lighthouse Board Kindly Suggests a Way to Do It-No Formal Notice Yet Received by the Bridge Trustees and No

United States District-Attorney Walker has been ordered by Acting Attorney-Gen. eral Maury to proceed against the Brooklyn Bridge Trustees to compel them to comply with the law relative to the lighting of bridges over navigable rivers, and the question " Must the bridge lights go ?" is pressing itself upon the attention of the trustees and the interested public for answer.

Supt. C. C. Martin said to-day : "We shall not enter into any contest with the Lighthouse Board. They unquestionably have authority to regulate the lights on the main span of the bridge, from shore to shore. That span of the bridge, from shore to shore. That is to say, practically between the main piers.

"There are several ways suggested for a compliance with the law. Colored globes would undoubtedly remedy the difficulty, or ground glass opaque globes, or porcelain globes. But either of these remedies would reduce the light on the bridge fully one half, and we feel that there is none too much light now for the safety of foot passengers and those in vehicles on the bridge, and for public morality. The Lighthouse Board has submitted a plan of its own, which will probably be adopted, though it is an elaborate one.

'The complaint is that the lights shed a

"The complaint is that the lights shed a glaring light on the river, except directly under the bridge, where the effect is worse than ordinary darkness in contrast.

"They propose a system of screens and reflectors, so arranged on the river side of both rows of lights that no light will reach the water, while it will be all concentrated on the promenade and roadways.

"It must be remembered that the carbons burn, and as they burn the upper one drows down to meet the other. By this process the centre of the light drops six inches every five hours, which is the length of the life of a pair of carbons. Each globe has two carbons, and when the first has burned down its six inches, it works a spring which sets the other going.

"Now the reflectors must be so made that they disseminate the light at any stage of the burning, so that it forms a nice study how to construct a perfect reflector for the lights.

"There are sixteen lights on the main span between the piers, and only half of these could be seen in either direction, up or down the river.

could be seen in either direction, up or down the river.

Nothing will be done by us, probably, until the next meeting of the trustees, Oct. 8. We have as yet received no official notice of the action of the Attorney-General, and I can not say what the red and green light regulation is; but whatever it is we shall comply with it. The whole is a perplexing question and, we think, one which has been raised unnecessarily."

RELENTLESS YELLOW JACK.

He Stalks Through the Southern Land and Spares None. PERCHAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. ! Sept. 20 .- The moisture in the earth has been pretty thoroughly absorbed by the sun of the past three days, and nature, at least, looks more hopeful for

At noon to-day only twenty new cases and two deaths had been reported by the yellowfever physician. Only twenty!"

But there were 130 cases, all told, on Wednesday, and twenty seems a small number for half a day now. But the yellow-fever scare has spread all over this State, and, indeed, the panic has spread to almost every city in the South.

Every day we receive notice that some new town has quarantined against us, and many localities have placed an embargo against all Arrangements have been completed though so that we can get out of town by water, and those who desire can get away to points which have not quarantined against us.

These points are pretty well north, and, of course, are safer for refuge for our people. Direct communication will be had with New York.

A volunteer

A volunteer guard of 200 men is posted all around Ocala, where the people are in a panic over the appearance of the fever in Gainsville, though the disease has not spread beyond the four guardsmen who contracted it at Fernandina.

Fernandina still insists that she is free from Yellow Jack, though Dr. Julius Wise, sent there to investigate, finds four cases.

Forty-one persons are sick at McClenny, five having come down during the past forty-eight hours.

eight hours.

St. Augustine is free from yellow fever, and has prohibited the entrance of anything from Jacksonville. Even the mails are disinfected before they enter the city.

A Duval County sanitary committee has been appointed to see that proper sanitary conditions are had in the outlying towns. The eight examining physicians declare that there is no yellow fever in South Jacksonville.

Efforts are being made to give the men who are now charges on the city employment, but these efforts are being resisted by the idle. They have degenerated into paupers already, and refuse to work. As long as they can get free rations they will not work.

NEW YORK IS ONE BIG STABLE.

And the Door Seems to Be at Broadway

On the returns from the Carmansville po lice station, received at Police Headquarters to-day, was this startling item: At 4.30 a. M. Patrolman John B. Fredericks found the stuble door open at Broadway and Ma-comb street, and secured it.

This may account for the number of cattle found wandering in the streets, and placed in pound by the police of the Kingsbridge in pound by the police of the Kingsbridge and Tremont stations. One horse was found astray in Riverdale avenue: three more at One Hundred and Thirty-seventh street and Fourth avenue: another at One Hundred and Sixtieth street and Washington avenue: a horse and two cows at Tiebout avenue and One Hundred and Eighty-fifth street, and two additional horses running wild at Washington avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-sixth street.

The police also found a set of harness on the ground, with the letter "R" on the blinkers, which they think was stolen.

Great Bargains at Simpson's

Ladies who go shopping are securing great bargains at Simpson's, on dixth avenue, between Forty-first and Forty-second streets. The firm

MISS M'TAVISH TO MARRY NORFOLK.

England's Greatest Duke and Baltimore's Beautiful and Wenithy Belle Engaged. IMPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

BALTIMOBE, Sept. 20 .- The announcement of Miss Virginia McTavish's engagement to the Duke of Norfolk has thrown Baltimore society into a flutter of excitement. Cablegrams received here to-day verify the reports irculated vesterday.

Miss Virginia McTavish is tall, stately and blonde. She is a leading society belle in Baltimore and New York, but is not popular because of her excessive hauteur. She is a daughter of Charles Carroll McTavish, a lineal descendant of Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, and her mother was a Miss Scott, a daughter of Gen. Winfield Scott. She is considered the finest horsewoman in America, and on her imported Irish hunter frequently rides ahead of all the male members of the Elkridge, Rockaway and Cedarhurst hunts. Two of her sisters have retired to convents. The elder, Miss Emily, took the visitation veil at Mount Emily, took the visitation veil at Mount Desailles and gave her fortune to the Church, The younger one became a Carmelite nun. She is just the one of all the rich and pretty women of Baltimors who would appreciate and do justice to the position and title of Duchess of Norfolk.

An aunt of Miss McTavish married the first and last Marquis of Wellesley, for some time Governor-General of India. He was the elder brother of the great Duke of Wellington.

or New York had the faintest idea of the matrimonial intentions of their consin nor of the distinguished connection that awaited them. Indeed, it was reported not long ago by those who pretend to keep au courant with the movements and plans of the British nobility that a marriage had been arranged between the Duke of Norfolk and a young Englishwoman of rank.

THE DUKE OF NORPOLE.

Henri Fitz-Alan-Howard, Knight of the Garter, fiteenth Duke of Norfolk, Earl of Arundel, of Surrey, and Lord of a dozen more dignities, including that of hereditary Earl Marshal of the English realim, is the first and greatest of all England's nobles. He is the premier Duke and premier Earl of the Kingdom, both of these titles dating from 1483, and he takes rank and precedence before all other nobles of Great Britain and immediately after peers of the reigning house or dukes of the blood royal. He is a Roman Oatholic in religion, his illustrious ancestors having always clung to the old Church, and his only public duties have been on matters connected with Papal affairs. He was recently sent as the Queen's representative to the Vatican to congratulate Pope Lee on his jubilee, and on that occasion he handed His Holiness a check for many thousands of dollars as his own personal donasands of dollars as his own personal dons-sands of dollars as his own personal donation.

The Duke is a widower. He married in 1877 Lady Flora Hastings, daughter of the Countess of Loudoun and niece of the unfortunate Marquis of Hastings, who died bankrupt and broken-hearted in 1868, the last of his race. In this connection it is interesting to add that Lady Loudoun inherited the only one of her brother's (Lord Hastings) itwelve earldoms which could be inherited by a woman, and thus became a peeress in her own right. She died some few years after her daughter became a duchess, and in her will left directions that her body was to be buried in the family vault, but that her right hand was to be detached from her body and buried in a certain favorite spot on one of her Scotch estates.

Prior to Lady Flora Hastings's marriage to the Duke of Norfolk she became a convert the Duke of Norfolk she became a convert to Romanism, and was apparently as de-voted to Rome as her husband. A son was given them in 1879, the present Earl of Arundel and Surrey, but to the great grief of his parents he was born blind and deaf and has since developed signs of imbecility. He is not likely to attain manhood, so that the second marriage of his father will, perhaps, provide the heir to the titles and estates. Flora, Duchess of Norfolk, died two or three years ago.

provide the heir to the titles and estates. Flora, Duchess of Norfolk, died two or three years ago.

The Duke of Norfolk is rich even for an English Duke. He has a splendid mansion in the heart of London and one of the most beautiful domains in Sussex as his principal country seat. Arundel Castle dates from the days of King Alfred, and a fireplace is shown in one of the old towers where the Saxon monarch is supposed to have warmed his limbs. The successive Dukes have of course restored the castle from time to time, and the present palace wing, built by the thirteenth Duke, is a beautiful and picturesque structure. In the grounds is a long walled inclosure called the Duchess's Kitchen Garden, where the bresent Duke's grandmother indulged in her hobby of cultivating vegetables. Near to the great gates of the grounds is a magnificent Gothic cathedral, built a dozen years ago entirely at the Duke's expense and presented to the Catholic Church, and beneath the grand altar lie the ashes of his young widow.

As for the Duke personally, it may be said that he is a man of pre-eminent virtue and a most worthy exponent of the motto "Noblesse oblige." He is a patron of arts and letters, a breeder of fine stock, a promoter of agriculture, a generous landlord and liberal in every way with his wealth. In appearance he is somewhat short in stature, with a full beard and unpronounced features. His one little peculiarity is his partiality to shabby tall hats.

Board of Education Agrees to Its Transfer from the Old Fund.

Board of Education had its regular ession yesterday atternoon at 4 o'clock. When President Simmons called the meeting to order there were fifteen Commissioners in their arm-chairs. Messes, Purdy, Vermilye. Devoe and Welch were not present.

Six reports were laid over for consideration and they received attention first. Five of them were settled in a quarter of an hour, while the sixth took a full sixty minutes of earnest talking and questioning before it was settled.

This long question was that of transferring $9,200 of the surplus of last year to the Board of Estimate and Appointment, for establishing the Free Lectures for workingmen which THE EVENING WORLD suggested some which The Evening World suggested some months ago.

After President Simmons had put this matter before the Board, there was a considerable discussion of points connected with the employment of lecturers, the means of illustrating the discourses and the times at which lectures should occur.

Commissioner Wood spoke strongly of the necessity of illustrating the lectures by means of stereopticons and chemical experiments.

Commissioner O'Brien said: "I have got a list of professors desirous of giving the lectures who rank as high as any in the world. The lectures will be illustrated. Some of these lecturers have volunteered their services, others have presented theirs for a compensation. When an appropriation is asked from the surplus for as worthy an object as this, I should not think there could be any question of the propriety of such an appropriation. We intend to select such schools in the wards as will be filled by a good audience, who will profit by this educational pleasure."

Other Commissioners expressed various views and made pertinent suggestions, and the favorable opinion.

1. It the Effect of Immigration?

I have read with a great deal of interest the accounts by which one of the reporters of THE EVENING WORLD, tried to secure a position, and succeeded only after a seven days' search. As regards the statement which he made, that there must be over one hundred thousand people out of work in this city alone, I can fully agree with him. I have tried myself to procure a situation, but have always been surprised to see the number of applicants on the same mission. What are the causes why so many procule are out of ber of applicants on the same mission. What are the causes why so many people are out of work? And what can be done to get employment for those who want work? I believe that three-fourths of those idle would be willing to put their hands to any kind of work by which they could earn a living.

Why is it that emigrants that come to this country and are not in Castle Garden any length of time can get a position? Simply because they will work for one-half what an American will work for, which to them is considered large wages.

Let anybody who is at all interested in this question take the trouble to question people out of work, and they will find that eight out of every ten will say that they can't get work, and that it is the emigration that keeps them out of work. I would like to see this question discussed; also what would be the best way to procure situations for the masses who would work if they could. Shall immigration be stopped? If not, what shall be done? ONE WHO WANTS WORK.
